

All Fraser Health COVID-19 immunization and testing clinics return to normal operations

SURREY – The temporary measures put in place at some of Fraser Health’s COVID-19 immunization and testing clinics are now over. All clinics are open and have returned to regular hours of operation. Existing appointment times are proceeding as planned and all walk-ins for first dose are welcome.

Fraser Health would like to thank everyone for their patience as we needed to work quickly to pivot some clinics due to the extreme heat.

People attending COVID-19 immunization and testing clinics are reminded to take precautions to protect themselves, including staying hydrated and wearing sunscreen as we are still seeing warm days.
